Legacy Planning:

A part of your legacy may include a charitable gift to support Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library forever. The Community Foundation provides an array of donor options to make giving efficient and simple. Loyal library supporters have the ability to maximize their generosity and advance our work for years to come:

Bequests – Contributors may include a provision in their will naming the Community Foundation and the Friends of Flower Memorial Library Fund. You may also create a new fund to support the organization that's of great interest to you. You may choose to give a specific dollar amount or a percentage of your estate.

Retirement Plans – This option allows you to truly maximize your meaningful gift. You can avoid taxes on retirement plan distributions by naming the Community Foundation as the beneficiary, listing the Friends of Flower Memorial Library Fund, or creating your own fund for our community organization.

Life Insurance – List the Community Foundation as the beneficiary and designate the contribution to the Friends of Flower Memorial Library Fund. It is an efficient option that maximizes the value of your charitable gift and also allows you to receive a tax deduction.

Other legacy planning options include charitable gift annuities (CGAs), charitable remainder trusts (CRTs) and more. To discuss legacy planning or other charitable giving interests through the Community Foundation, please contact Executive Director Rande Richardson or Assistant Director Max DeSignore at (315) 782-7110.
