LIBRARY BILL OF RIGHTS

The American Library Association affirms that all libraries are forums for information and ideas, and that the following basic policies should guide their services.

I. Books and other library resources should be provided for the interest, information, and enlightenment of all people of the community the library serves. Materials should not be excluded because of the origin, background, or views of those contributing to their creation.

II. Libraries should provide materials and information presenting all points of view on current and historical issues. Materials should not be proscribed or removed because of partisan or doctrinal disapproval.

III. Libraries should challenge censorship in the fulfillment of their responsibility to provide information and enlightenment.

IV. Libraries should cooperate with all persons and groups concerned with resisting abridgment of free expression and free access to ideas.

V. A person's right to use a library should not be denied or abridged because of origin, age, background, or views.

VI. Libraries which make exhibit spaces and meeting rooms available to the public they serve should make such facilities available on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use.

Adopted June 18, 1948, by the ALA Council; amended February 2, 1961; amended June 28, 1967; amended January 23, 1980; inclusion of "age" reaffirmed January 24, 1996.

Re-Adopted by the Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library Board of Trustees, December 8, 2009

An Interpretation of the Library Bill of Rights

Library policies and procedures that effectively deny minors equal and equitable access to all library resources available to other users violate the Library Bill of Rights. The American Library Association opposes all attempts to restrict access to library services, materials, and facilities based on the age of library users.

Article V of the Library Bill of Rights states: "A person's right to use a library should not be denied or abridged because of origin, age, background, or views." The "right to use a library" includes free access to, and unrestricted use of, all the services, materials, and facilities the library has to offer. Every restriction on access to, and use of, library resources, based solely on the chronological age, educational level, literacy skills, or legal emancipation of users violates Article V.

Libraries are charged with the mission of developing resources to meet the diverse information needs and interests of the communities they serve. Services, materials, and facilities that fulfill the needs and interests of library users at different stages in their personal development are a necessary part of library resources. The needs and interests of each library user, and resources appropriate to meet those needs and interests, must be determined on an individual basis. Librarians cannot predict what resources will best fulfill the needs and interests of any individual user based on a single criterion such as chronological age, educational level, literacy skills, or legal emancipation.

Libraries should not limit the selection and development of library resources simply because minors will have access to them. Institutional self-censorship diminishes the credibility of the library in the community, and restricts access for all library users.

Children and young adults unquestionably possess First Amendment rights, including the right to receive information in the library. Constitutionally protected speech cannot be suppressed solely to protect children or young adults from ideas or images a legislative body believes to be unsuitable for them.¹ Librarians and library governing bodies should not resort to age restrictions in an effort to avoid actual or anticipated objections, because only a court of law can determine whether material is not constitutionally protected.

The mission, goals, and objectives of libraries cannot authorize librarians or library governing bodies to assume, abrogate, or overrule the rights and responsibilities of parents. As "Libraries: An American Value" states, "We affirm the responsibility and the right of all parents and guardians to guide their own children's use of the library and its resources and services." Librarians and governing bodies should maintain that parents—and only parents—have the right and the responsibility to restrict the access of their children—and only their children—to library resources. Parents who do not want their children to have access to certain library services, materials, or facilities should so advise their children. Librarians and library governing bodies cannot assume the role of parents or the functions of parental authority in the private relationship between parent and child.

Lack of access to information can be harmful to minors. Librarians and library governing bodies have a public and professional obligation to ensure that all members of the community they serve have free, equal, and equitable access to the entire range of library resources regardless of content, approach, format, or amount of detail. This principle of library service applies equally to all users, minors as well as adults. Librarians and library governing bodies must uphold this principle in order to provide adequate and effective service to minors.

Adopted June 30, 1972 by the ALA Council, amended July 1, 1981, July 3, 1991, June 30, 2004.

Re-Adopted by the Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library Board of Trustees, December 8, 2009

THE FREEDOM TO READ STATEMENT

The freedom to read is essential to our democracy. It is continuously under attack. Private groups and public authorities in various parts of the country are working to remove or limit access to reading materials, to censor content in schools, to label "controversial" views, to distribute lists of "objectionable" books or authors, and to purge libraries. These actions apparently rise from a view that our national tradition of free expression is no longer valid; that censorship and suppression are needed to counter threats to safety or national security, as well as to avoid the subversion of politics and the corruption of morals. We, as individuals devoted to reading and as librarians and publishers responsible for disseminating ideas, wish to assert the public interest in the preservation of the freedom to read.

Most attempts at suppression rest on a denial of the fundamental premise of democracy: that the ordinary individual, by exercising critical judgment, will select the good and reject the bad. We trust Americans to recognize propaganda and misinformation, and to make their own decisions about what they read and believe. We do not believe they are prepared to sacrifice their heritage of a free press in order to be "protected" against what others think may be bad for them. We believe they still favor free enterprise in ideas and expression.

These efforts at suppression are related to a larger pattern of pressures being brought against education, the press, art and images, films, broadcast media, and the Internet. The problem is not only one of actual censorship. The shadow of fear cast by these pressures leads, we suspect, to an even larger voluntary curtailment of expression by those who seek to avoid controversy or unwelcome scrutiny by government officials.

Such pressure toward conformity is perhaps natural to a time of accelerated change. And yet suppression is never more dangerous than in such a time of social tension. Freedom has given the United States the elasticity to endure strain. Freedom keeps open the path of novel and creative solutions, and enables change to come by choice. Every silencing of a heresy, every enforcement of an orthodoxy, diminishes the toughness and resilience of our society and leaves it the less able to deal with controversy and difference.

Now as always in our history, reading is among our greatest freedoms. The freedom to read and write is almost the only means for making generally available ideas or manners of expression that can initially command only a small audience. The written word is the natural medium for the new idea and the untried voice from which come the original contributions to social growth. It is essential to the extended discussion that serious thought requires, and to the accumulation of knowledge and ideas into organized collections.

We believe that free communication is essential to the preservation of a free society and a creative culture. We believe that these pressures toward conformity present the danger of limiting the range and variety of inquiry and expression on which our democracy and our culture depend. We believe that every American community must jealously guard the freedom to publish and to circulate, in order to preserve its own freedom to read. We believe that publishers and librarians have a profound responsibility to give validity to that freedom to read by making it possible for the readers to choose freely from a variety of offerings.

The freedom to read is guaranteed by the Constitution. Those with faith in free people will stand firm on these constitutional guarantees of essential rights and will exercise the responsibilities that accompany these rights.

We therefore affirm these propositions:

1. It is in the public interest for publishers and librarians to make available the widest diversity of views and expressions, including those that are unorthodox, unpopular, or considered dangerous by the majority.

Creative thought is by definition new, and what is new is different. The bearer of every new thought is a rebel until that idea is refined and tested. Totalitarian systems attempt to maintain themselves in power by the ruthless suppression of any concept that challenges the established orthodoxy. The power of a democratic system to adapt to change is vastly strengthened by the freedom of its citizens to choose widely from among conflicting opinions offered freely to them. To stifle every nonconformist idea at birth would mark the end of the democratic process. Furthermore, only through the constant activity of weighing and selecting can the democratic mind attain the strength demanded by times like these. We need to know not only what we believe but why we believe it.

2. Publishers, librarians, and booksellers do not need to endorse every idea or presentation they make available. It would conflict with the public interest for them to establish their own political, moral, or aesthetic views as a standard for determining what should be published or circulated.

Publishers and librarians serve the educational process by helping to make available knowledge and ideas required for the growth of the mind and the increase of learning. They do not foster education by imposing as mentors the patterns of their own thought. The people should have the freedom to read and consider a broader range of ideas than those that may be held by any single librarian or publisher or government or church. It is wrong that what one can read should be confined to what another thinks proper.

3. It is contrary to the public interest for publishers or librarians to bar access to writings on the basis of the personal history or political affiliations of the author.

No art or literature can flourish if it is to be measured by the political views or private lives of its creators. No society of free people can flourish that draws up lists of writers to whom it will not listen, whatever they may have to say.

4. There is no place in our society for efforts to coerce the taste of others, to confine adults to the reading matter deemed suitable for adolescents, or to inhibit the efforts of writers to achieve artistic expression.

To some, much of modern expression is shocking. But is not much of life itself shocking? We cut off literature at the source if we prevent writers from dealing with the stuff of life. Parents and teachers have a responsibility to prepare the young to meet the diversity of experiences in life to which they will be exposed, as they have a responsibility to help them learn to think critically for themselves. These are affirmative responsibilities, not to be discharged simply by preventing them from reading works for which they are not yet prepared. In these matters values differ, and values cannot be legislated; nor can machinery be devised that will suit the demands of one group without limiting the freedom of others.

5. It is not in the public interest to force a reader to accept the prejudgment of a label characterizing any expression or its author as subversive or dangerous.

The ideal of labeling presupposes the existence of individuals or groups with wisdom to determine by authority what is good or bad for others. It presupposes that individuals must be directed in making up their minds about the ideas they examine. But Americans do not need others to do their thinking for them.

6. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians, as guardians of the people's freedom to read, to contest encroachments upon that freedom by individuals or groups seeking to impose their own standards or tastes upon the community at large; and by the government whenever it seeks to reduce or deny public access to public information.

It is inevitable in the give and take of the democratic process that the political, the moral, or the aesthetic concepts of an individual or group will occasionally collide with those of another individual or group. In a free society individuals are free to determine for themselves what they wish to read, and each group is free to determine what it will recommend to its freely associated members. But no group has the right to take the law into its own hands, and to impose its own concept of politics or morality upon other members of a democratic society. Freedom is no freedom if it is accorded only to the accepted and the inoffensive. Further, democratic societies are more safe, free, and creative when the free flow of public information is not restricted by governmental prerogative or self-censorship.

7. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians to give full meaning to the freedom to read by providing books that enrich the quality and diversity of thought and expression. By the exercise of this affirmative responsibility, they can demonstrate that the answer to a "bad" book is a good one, the answer to a "bad" idea is a good one.

The freedom to read is of little consequence when the reader cannot obtain matter fit for that reader's purpose. What is needed is not only the absence of restraint, but the positive provision of opportunity for the people to read the best that has been thought and said. Books are the major channel by which the intellectual inheritance is handed down, and the principal means of its testing and growth. The defense of the freedom to read requires of all publishers and librarians the utmost of their faculties, and deserves of all Americans the fullest of their support.

We state these propositions neither lightly nor as easy generalizations. We here stake out a lofty claim for the value of the written word. We do so because we believe that it is possessed of enormous variety and usefulness, worthy of cherishing and keeping free. We realize that the application of these propositions may mean the dissemination of ideas and manners of expression that are repugnant to many persons. We do not state these propositions in the comfortable belief that what people read is unimportant. We believe rather that what people read is deeply important; that ideas can be dangerous; but that the suppression of ideas is fatal to a democratic society. Freedom itself is a dangerous way of life, but it is ours.

FREEDOM TO VIEW STATEMENT

The Freedom to View, along with the freedom to speak, to hear, and to read, is protected by the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. In a free society, there is no place for censorship of any medium of expression. Therefore these principles are affirmed:

1. To provide the broadest access to film, video, and other audiovisual materials because they are a means for the communication of ideas. Liberty of circulation is essential to insure the constitutional guarantee of freedom of expression.
2. To protect the confidentiality of all individuals and institutions using film, video, and other audiovisual materials.
3. To provide film, video, and other audiovisual materials which represent a diversity of views and expression. Selection of a work does not constitute or imply agreement with or approval of the content.
4. To provide a diversity of viewpoints without the constraint of labeling or prejudging film, video, or other audiovisual materials on the basis of the moral, religious, or political beliefs of the producer or filmmaker or on the basis of controversial content.
5. To contest vigorously, by all lawful means, every encroachment upon the public's freedom to view.

This statement was originally drafted by the Freedom to View Committee of the American Film and Video Association (formerly the Educational Film Library Association) and was adopted by the AFVA Board of Directors in February 1979. This statement was updated and approved by the AFVA Board of Directors in 1989.

Bankruptcy

Flower Memorial Library recognizes the importance of library access to all members of the community, regardless of financial status. However, this philosophy must be balanced against the reality that some patrons, for various reasons, do not pay their debts to the library and the library suffers financially as result.

In cases where a patron has declared bankruptcy, the library acknowledges that it is legally barred from collecting the debt. Given that fact, when the library receives confirmation of a patron's bankruptcy as evidenced by a court decree, then that patron will be limited to two checkouts at a time. If the patron chooses, by their own initiative to pay the debt, then full borrowing privileges will be restored to that patron.

After one year, the patron may request a review of their account by the Library Director to determine if full borrowing privileges could be restored.

Item limits for certain materials

There is an overall limit of 20 items per library card. New patrons will be limited to a 2 item checkout for the first three months. After that, if they are a patron in good standing, they will be allowed the normal limit.

Loan limits are on the following:

- 2 Civil Service Test books
- 5 Periodicals (Adult)
- 5 Periodicals (Juvenile)
- 4 Movies (VHS and DVDs)
- 3 Music CDs
- 1 adult multi-media kit (i.e. exercise kits)

The library reserves the right to adjust the number of items circulated to an individual by subject, format, or other criterion, as may be deemed appropriate in specific instances.

Deposits

A $10.00 deposit will be required to check out some testing/study materials (i.e., GED, SAT, ASVAB, and Civil Service Test books). The deposit will be returned to the patron once the material is returned to the library. If an item is not returned, the deposit will be used toward buying a replacement copy. (An item will be considered "not returned" once it is 21 days past the due date.)

Requests/Holds

Persons may request an item in person, over the phone or via the on-line catalog. Items will be held for the patron seven days from when the item is placed on the hold shelf. Patrons are allowed to have a maximum of 10 holds.

CONFIDENTIALITY OF LIBRARY RECORDS

The Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library supports and complies with New York State Law (New York State Civil Service Practice Law & Rules 4509, Chapter 112, Laws of 1988) with respect to the confidentiality of library records. All library records relating to an individual patron's use of the library and its resources are confidential. These records may be consulted and used by library staff in the course of carrying out library operations, but will not be disclosed to others except upon the request or consent of the library user, or pursuant to subpoena, court order, or otherwise required by law. Such disclosures required by law, may be made only by the Library Director in consultation with the City Attorney.

New York State Civil Practice Law & Rules 4509, Chapter 112, Laws of 1988

Adopted by the Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library Board of Trustees, March 8, 2011

REPLACEMENT AND DAMAGED ITEM POLICY

Damaged Item Guidelines

Major damage is defined as severe water damage, dog chews, etc, to such an extent that the item cannot be repaired and can no longer be circulated. The replacement cost for the damaged item will be determined by the Library Staff.

Moderate damage is defined as extensive stains, torn pages, broken spine, etc that will affect the item's suitability for circulation. The charges for the damage will be determined by the Library Staff based on time and materials replacement costs.

Minor damage is defined as scribbles in the front cover, or the cover needs to be taped, etc, and the item can still circulate as is or can be repaired.

Fees for damage to items:

- Missing barcode -- $1.00
- Missing or damaged cover artwork/booklet -- $2.00
- Missing or broken CD case -- $2.00
- Missing or broken DVD case -- $2.00
- Missing audio book CD -- $9.00/per item
- Missing audio book case- $10.00

IDENTIFICATION REQUIRED FOR BORROWER'S CARDS

- A. Individuals requesting a library card must live or own property within Jefferson, Lewis, St. Lawrence or Oswego counties.
- B. Primary identification to be used is identification with a picture (preferably a Driver's License), which has the individual's current address. If the address information on the picture ID is not current or existent, then another form of identification must be presented which verifies the individual's address.
- C. Individuals who do not possess a valid picture ID must present two documents (paper or digital) that verify their current address.
- D. Children 10 and under must also be accompanied by a parent or legal guardian. The parent or legal guardian must present identification as outlined previously in this policy if they do not have a library card on record.
- E. Individuals who are living in this area temporarily and whose address may be an area motel, trailer court, etc., and who do not have a current, and valid New York State driver's license; and who are not receiving Social Services assistance, and who cannot provide a current utilities bill, or telephone bill mailed to them at the address given on the application, are to be accorded "DEPOSIT ACCOUNT" status and must leave a cash deposit of $25.00. This deposit will allow those individuals to borrow two (2) items from the library. At the return of those two (2) items, another two (2) items may be borrowed, and so on. The deposit fee is returned at the time the individual ceases to borrow materials. Patrons have 6 months after their last book is returned to claim the cash deposit for the Deposit Account. After 6 months, the money becomes a donation to the library.

Lost/Damaged Cards: Patrons will be charged a $1.00 fee for the first 3 replacement Universal Library cards that are lost or damaged. Thereafter, the card replacement charge will be $5.00 per card.

Renewal Date for Library Cards: Expiration dates for library cards will be one year. Most renewals will require only a confirmation of contact information.

INTERLIBRARY LOAN POLICY

I. Principles

- a. The Interlibrary loan service supports the mission of the library by providing expanded access to library materials and information. The purpose of interlibrary loan is to obtain materials not available in the library. The library affirms that interlibrary loan is an adjunct to, not a substitute for, the library's collection. In meeting patron needs, the library will exhaust local resources first, including its own collection and those of North Country Library System (NCLS) member libraries where possible, before requesting items on interlibrary loan.
- b. The Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library endorses the principles relating to interlibrary loan included in the American Library Association (ALA) Interlibrary Loan Code for the United States, the U.S. Copyright Law and U.S. Commission on New Technological Uses of Copyrighted Works (CONTU) Guidelines, and federal and state laws governing confidentiality of records.

II. Definition

- a. An Interlibrary Loan request is defined as a request for library materials made on behalf of a Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library patron through other online catalogs. This does not include holds placed by patrons or staff for materials in automated libraries in the NCLS system.

III. Patron Status

- a. Any patron with a “blocked or barred status” will be denied Interlibrary Loan Service.
- b. Patrons must renew or return overdue materials or pay bills before placing Interlibrary Loan requests.

IV. Borrowing Rules

- a. Ten active requests are permitted at any one time per patron. A request is active from the time it is initiated until the item has been returned and checked in at the lending library and the record has cleared.
- b. Materials will be available for pickup for one week after they are processed. If an item was not picked up, it will not be requested again.
- c. There will be a $1 per item charge for items not picked up within the seven days. The library director is authorized to make exceptions on a case by case base.
- d. Interlibrary Loan materials are checked out for 28 days or for a period stipulated by the lending library.
- e. Interlibrary Loans may not be renewed.
- f. Requests to borrow textbooks from other institutions will not be filled.

V. Charges

- a. The library does not charge fees for the Interlibrary Loan service.
- b. There will be a $2.50 charge for return postage for each item that has to be borrowed outside of the normal NCLS delivery route.
- c. The library always attempts to borrow from libraries who lend free of charge. However, if an item is only available from a library which charges a fee for loans, the item will be requested only if the patron agrees to pre-pay the fee. The patron is responsible for overdue fees, repair or replacement costs. The library will make an effort to collect any such charges from the patron who received the materials.

d. Hold notification may be accomplished in one of four ways:

1. Calling the Library
2. Checking patron account online
3. Email notification
4. Postcard (a fee of $.35 for postage will be charged to be notified in this way).

REFERENCE SERVICE POLICY

The Reference Desk is open when the library is open. If the Reference Librarian is busy or unavailable, patrons may leave a message if calling or write down their questions and the Librarian will contact the patron with the answer later.

Reference Librarians:

- Will provide information in the form of short answers to specific questions and guidance in locating current, accurate, information for patrons who appear in person, call on the telephone or request information through correspondence.
- Will assist patrons in the use of the Library and teach basic research methodology, when appropriate (this includes providing help in developing a research strategy and advice on whether a trip to the Library would be worthwhile for individuals who telephone).
- Will provide bibliographic verification of items both in the Library and not owned by the Library and will assist patrons in obtaining materials through interlibrary loan when appropriate.
- May refer library users to other agencies and libraries in pursuit of needed information.
- May use not only the Library's resources in printed form, but consult appropriate digital resources as well as the regional resource library and other agencies by telephone in pursuit of "ready reference" information.
- May not assist patrons in areas where confidentiality is an issue. These situations include Social Security numbers, personal medical records, credit card information, email accounts and passwords.
- Will assist patrons using technology available unless the situation compromises the integrity of the library's computer systems. These situations include sending patron's emails, connecting laptops to the network via cables, etc.
- Will assist patrons with computer issues by making suggestions only.
- Will treat all reference questions with a nonjudgmental and confidential manner.

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT

The purpose of a Collection Development Policy is to provide the public with an understanding of the scope and nature of the library's collection and explain the criteria used in building a collection that supports and expresses the library's commitment to meeting the needs of the community it serves. It is based on the library's (mission) community input and the service role of the library. Community, in the case of R.P. Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library, is the citizens of the Watertown area, and, in our role as Central Library of the North Country Library System, the residents of the surrounding counties which comprise the system's service area. The library provides current, high-interest materials in a variety of formats for people of all ages and actively encourages the use of collections, which are both recreational and support life-long learning. Instilling a love of reading in children is a high priority, as is supplementing the educational needs of patrons and furnishing timely, accurate information on a variety of topics. Library materials, including increasingly important electronic resources, reflect a variety of opinions, stimulate self-understanding and growth, enhance job-related knowledge and skills and increase knowledge of and participation in the affairs of the community, the nation and the world.

The Board is charged with being ultimately responsible for the selection of all materials in the collection. The Board has chosen to delegate full responsibility for the selection of all materials to the Director of the Library. Under the authority of the Director, the Adult Service Librarian and Children's Librarian select and deselect library materials.

Principles

Materials are selected and retained on a basis of their content and overall value. Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library represents all points of view and the library, as much as is possible, is a reflection of the community and its diversity. It also seeks to advance awareness of those cultures, traditions and ideas not represented in the local community. The selection principles promote the American Library Association's "Library Bill of Rights" and interpretations, "Freedom to Read Act," "Freedom to View Act," and "Intellectual Freedom Statement" and "ALA guidelines for Access to Electronic Information".

General Criteria

A policy cannot replace the judgment of individual librarians but only provides guidelines to assist them in choosing from the vast array of available materials. In selection, the librarian uses professional judgment and expertise, based on understanding of user needs and a knowledge of authors and publishers. Flexibility, open-mindedness and responsiveness to the changing needs of the community are a necessity. Considerations include:

- Appropriateness to library's mission
- Contemporary significance
- Popular demand (including requests by patrons and staff)
- Suitability of subject and style for intended audience
- Insight into human and social conditions
- Accuracy and authoritativeness
- Appropriateness and effectiveness of medium to content
- Relation to existing collection
- Availability of material elsewhere in the community and through interlibrary loan
- Clarity and logic; comprehensiveness and depth of presentation
- Price, format, suitability of physical form for library use

- Inclusion of work in bibliographies, best lists, indexes

An item need not meet all these criteria in order to be acceptable. When judging the desirability of materials, any combination of standards may be used. More specific guidelines can be found in the special collections section of this policy.

Adult Collections

The Adult Services Librarian has primary responsibility for the selection and maintenance of collections for adult patrons.

A. Fiction

A basic collection of classics and standard titles is maintained. There is no single standard for inclusion in the fiction collection. Because of the large volume of fiction published, it is possible to purchase only a representative selection with emphasis on major authors and the most popular examples of a genre. Patron requests for fiction are purchased whenever possible and influence the addition of more copies. Genre fiction such as mysteries, romances, espionage, horror, thrillers, science fiction, fantasy and westerns are purchased in proportion to demand and circulation statistics. Efforts are made to complete series, purchase award winning titles and to represent local authors, publishers and subject matter. Each work will be judged on its own merits. Preferred fiction will be competently written, have plausible characterizations and give an honest portrayal of the human experience with which it deals.

B. Non-Fiction

The nonfiction collection provides timely, accurate and useful informational materials to support individual and community interests. It emphasizes materials that are current and in high demand. Materials are available for all ages and reading levels in a variety of formats. Materials are selected to represent a continuum of opinions and viewpoints when available. Titles with continued value and those of current, accepted authority are part of the library collection. As a new field emerges, the library responds with timely additions. General treatment is preferred unless there is an identified need for in-depth treatment of a subject area. Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library emphasizes non-scholarly materials and relies heavily on interlibrary loan for academic and in-depth coverage of subject matters.

C. Reference and Electronic Information Resources

Reference materials are for in house use. They provide quick, concise and up-to-date information. Included are indexes, encyclopedias, bibliographies, biographical resources, dictionaries, almanacs and directories.

Selection criteria for printed Reference resources include:

- authoritativeness
- demands on subject area which circulating collection cannot meet
- ease of use
- format
- frequency of use
- scope and depth of coverage

Additional selection criteria for electronic and emerging formats include:

- acceptable response time
- availability of adequate startup and continuing funding
- capability for information to be downloaded
- capability for networked distribution
- demand for format in community
- durability of format for library use
- logical operation and ease of use for public and staff
- impact on equipment, staff, storage and space
- reduction/replacement of in print or other format materials
- suitability for direct public access
- technical quality of production or reproduction
- timeliness in updating information

D. Periodicals and newspapers

Periodicals are an important source of new ideas, topics, and consumer information as well as being in demand as recreational reading material. Therefore, Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library subscribes to approximately 120 periodicals and newspapers. The periodicals collection is reviewed yearly for additions and deletions. Electronic access to periodicals is an increasingly important resource. The same selection criteria apply to these materials as to similar materials in print format.

E. Audio and Visual materials

The same selection criteria apply to AV materials as to similar materials in print format.

Additional selection criteria include:

- technical quality of audio and visual reproduction
- presentation or experience that is unique to format and provides an alternative to print
- significance of performance or diversity in interpretation
- critical acclaim as demonstrated in awards, nomination for awards, and/or reviews by the performing arts community
- suitability to be circulated or housed in a sturdy, safe and convenient manner

Audios and videos are protected by copyright and are intended for home use only.

Youth Collections

The Children's Librarian has primary responsibility for the selection and maintenance of collections (excluding videos) for patrons from infancy through sixth grade as well as fiction for young adults, and the types of professional reference material described below. The diverse constituency served includes preschool children cared for at home as well as in day cares and preschools, public, private, and home school students, college students of children's literature, and adults who share literature with children.

The collections include:

- A. Picture books—Board books, wordless books, concept books, classic and contemporary picture book stories for preschool and early primary grade children, and very simple versions of folktales.
- B. Easy readers—Books specifically designed for the emerging reader (grades 1-2) to read independently

- C. Juvenile Fiction—Quality contemporary and historical fiction for readers from 7/8 years to 12/13 years (2nd/3rd grade through 6th/7th) as well as genres (fantasy, science fiction, mystery), a selection of the most popular paperback series, and a small number of sophisticated picture books.
- D. Juvenile Nonfiction—Informational books for youth up to 12 (grade 6) with an emphasis on folklore, the culture, customs and history of regions of the U.S. and other countries, natural and physical science, the arts and handicrafts, poetry, biography, and sports.
- E. Juvenile Periodicals—Popular and quality children’s magazines for use by children and their families.
- F. Juvenile Reference—Dictionaries, atlas, almanacs, encyclopedias and other materials for children’s research needs. The collection also emphasizes resources on the following topics for librarians, parents, educators, and college students: authors and illustrators of books for youth, reader’s advisory guidance, bibliographies, book talking, reading aloud, indexes to anthologies of folktales and poetry for children, and selected aspects of children’s literature. Reference materials are for in-house use only.
- G. Teacher Shelf—A small collection of professional titles containing ideas on using children’s literature in the classroom.
- H. Professional Reference Collection—Non-circulating titles on managerial aspects of youth services in public libraries, storytelling and programming for children and teens, teaching library skills, bulletin boards and displays, copyright-free art, and a small selection of picture books and public performance videos frequently used for library programs.
- I. Juvenile Audiocassettes—Unabridged versions of juvenile chapter books, read-alongs (picture book and cassette combinations), and a small selection of foreign language instruction, children’s songs, and storytelling.
- J. Young Adult Fiction—Standard titles in hardback, with multiple and ephemeral titles in paperback, for the recreational reading of youth ages 12/13 to 14/15 (7th-10th grades). Unabridged audiocassettes of young adult fiction are purchased as funds permit and demand dictates. (Young adult nonfiction is the selection responsibility of the Adult Services Librarian. It is inter-shelved with adult nonfiction and identified as YA by material code and spine label.)
- K. Additional Selection Criteria of Materials for Youth:
- Materials which meet the particular developmental needs of youth at different stages
 - Age and interest appropriate content and presentation
 - Emphasis on quality, critically acclaimed materials as demonstrated in awards specialized bibliographies, and/or reviews
 - Quality and aesthetics of illustrations to stimulate the imagination
 - Information and stories, which represent a spectrum of family styles and values
 - Materials which represent the richness and diversity of the youth’s local and world community
 - Awareness of curriculum-based needs of public, private, and home school students as well as college children’s literature students and Child Development Associate candidates
 - Awareness of high-demand materials for use with children in preschool classrooms

Collection Maintenance

Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library recognizes the need for ongoing evaluation of its collections to assure provision of inviting, accessible and visually browsable items. This ongoing maintenance includes weeding, replacement, repair, and review of standing order agreements.

A. Weeding Guidelines:

Discard:

- Materials with obsolete content
- Materials which are infrequently used
- Materials in poor or irreparable physical condition
- Older editions of encyclopedias, almanacs, directories, yearbooks, and standard texts (encyclopedias should be no older than 5 years in the reference collection)
- Materials which are incomplete sets in which items missing seriously impair their usefulness
- Materials that have no anticipated use
- Works containing information that has been superseded or presented in newer, more comprehensive or more accessible formats

B. Retention Guidelines:

Retain:

- Works containing useful local information
- Primary works in particular disciplines or topics
- Works representative of an era, trend or movement which provide unique coverage
- Works listed in standard or authoritative up to date bibliographies regularly used by staff and public
- Replacement of desired item is not possible
- The most cost-effective option is selected when making replacement versus repair decisions

Censorship and Reconsideration of Library Materials

This Board believes that the only acceptable censorship is self-censorship, therefore, it is the intent of the Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library Board of Trustees that no challenged library material shall be removed from the collection except upon court order, and after adversary proceedings in which the Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library Board defends inclusion of the material, unless said material was placed in the collection in violation of this policy. There is a citizen's request form available to fill out and give to the Library Director.

Re-Adopted by the Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library Board of Trustees, December 8, 2009

REQUEST FOR RECONSIDERATION OF LIBRARY MATERIALS POLICY

The Flower Memorial Library subscribes to the American Library Association's Library Bill of Rights, which states in part, that "Books and other library resources shall be provided for the interest, information, and enlightenment of all people of the community the library serves. Materials shall not be excluded because of the origin, background, or views of those contributing to their creation." The Library Bill of Rights continues by saying that "Libraries should provide materials and information presenting all points of view on current and historical issues. Materials should not be proscribed or removed because of partisan or doctrinal disapproval." It is the Flower Memorial Library's responsibility to provide resources on many subjects, from multiple viewpoints, appealing to the public's diverse interests and tastes.

If you wish the Library to reconsider the purchase of a particular item you must complete and sign the Request for Reconsideration of Library Materials form. When the Library Director receives the form he or she will appoint an ad hoc committee of 4-5 members of the professional staff, including the Director and the librarian who initiated the order. The committee will examine the item in its entirety, taking into consideration the original reasons for purchase, and evaluate the item in light of the Library's selection policy, the Library Bill of Rights, and the item's critical reception. After the item has been thoroughly and objectively reviewed, taking into consideration the complainant's objections, the committee will respond in writing.

If the complainant wishes to appeal the decision of the staff committee he or she may do so to the Board of Trustees. The appeal must be submitted in writing and will then be placed on the agenda of the next regularly scheduled Board meeting. The complainant will be given the opportunity to state his or her case to the full Board, who will take the information under advice. The Board President will then appoint an ad hoc committee of three to five Board members and the Library Director to examine the item in question. The ad hoc committee will review the item and make a recommendation to the full Board at the next regularly scheduled meeting. The decision of the Board is final.

ACCEPTABLE PATRON BEHAVIOR

It is the policy of the Flower Memorial Library Board of Trustees that library staff will encourage, in a friendly and polite manner, the use and enjoyment of the library.

It is expected that all patrons will exhibit acceptable and legal behavior while using the library. Persons engaging in unacceptable behavior, as determined by the Library Director or other staff in charge, shall be required to leave. Some examples of unacceptable behavior:

- People shall not harass or annoy other patrons or staff.
- Patrons must be appropriately attired, which includes footwear and shirts.
- Personal hygiene shall conform to the generally accepted standard of the community. Patrons whose bodily hygiene is offensive so as to constitute a nuisance to other persons shall be asked to leave the building.
- Patrons are not allowed to eat or drink in the library building except in designated meetings approved by the Administration.
- No animals, except service animals, are allowed in the library building, other than for sanctioned activities with prior approval from the Administration.
- Photography and filming must be pre-approved by the library.
- Offensive language or actions, rude or lewd comments will not be tolerated.
- Solicitation in any form is forbidden.
- Littering of the building and library grounds is forbidden.
- Any carrying device that is brought into the building is subject to search when the person leaves the building. This includes, but is not limited to backpacks, purses, briefcases, etc.

A person who has concerns related to unacceptable patron behavior may fill out an Incident Complaint Form or a Comment Form, both of which are available at the Circulation Desk.

Failure to follow these Rules of Acceptable Patron Behavior will result in action being taken to correct the behavior or end the disturbance. The Library Director or designated senior employee has the right to ban a person from entering the library because of unacceptable behavior. In all cases when necessary, the Watertown City Police may be summoned to assist in the enforcement of the Rules of Acceptable Patron Behavior.

Adopted by the Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library Board of Trustees, July 11, 2017.

CHILD BEHAVIOR AND SUPERVISION

The Library has a responsibility to provide an environment that is safe and comfortable for every patron who appropriately uses its services and facilities.

The Library Board and staff are eager for children to use the library and welcome those who do so. Service to children is an important part of the Library's mission. The Library is free and open to unaccompanied children who are independent enough to use the resources for recreation, information and education. Children under the age of 11 should not be left unattended in the library.

Parents should be aware that the Library is a public building open to all individuals. It is not the Library staff's function or purpose to provide supervision or to care for children while parents or caregivers are inside or outside the Library. Staff will not monitor children leaving the library.

Adult patrons who are not actively seeking children's materials and linger in the Children's Room without a child will be asked to leave. This is for the safety of all children.

The following policy has been designed to communicate the Library Board's concern for the safety and welfare of the children it serves.

Unattended Children

1. At all times, caregivers are responsible for the conduct and safety of their children on Library premises. Caregivers must provide appropriate supervision based on the ages, the abilities and the levels of responsibility of their children.
2. Caregivers are expected to be aware of the opening and closing times of the Library, bearing in mind that these can and do change. Power failures or other emergencies can occur and require unexpected closing of the building. Children left alone in the Library, or on Library grounds, could be vulnerable. Every effort will be made to contact the parents or guardians prior to closing.
3. If a child is left at the Library after closing time, or as the result of an emergency closing, the police will be called. Under no circumstances will a staff member take a child out of the building or transport children to another location. The police department, County Department of Social Services, or a juvenile welfare-related agency may be called if children under 12 years of age are left unattended in front of the building prior to regular opening time or have been left unattended in the building.
4. Children are expected to adhere to the same standards of conduct expected of adults. All Library users are required to respect Library property and to act in a manner appropriate to the use and function of the Library. (see Library Behavior Policy and Procedures). Children who are not using the Library appropriately or who require excessive staff attention or supervision, will be asked to leave the Library.

Re-Adopted by the Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library Board of Trustees, September 9, 2014

TEEN SPACE AND BEHAVIOR

The Teen Space was created for the Library's teen patrons age 12 – 18 as they grow out of the Children's Room. Their environment was designed to meet their informational and social needs as they transition into adulthood.

- The Teen Space is open during all library hours and all patrons may browse and/or check out materials from The Teen Space but only teens are allowed to “hang out” in the Space and use the tables, seating, and computers located within during all library hours.
- Patrons younger than 12 are allowed in The Teen Space in the company of a teen (age 12 – 18) but will be asked to log off a computer if all computers are in use and a teen would like to log on.
- Patrons older than 18 are not allowed to “hang out” in The Teen Space even if accompanying a teen and will be asked to relocate to another section of the library.

Parents, guardians and caregivers are encouraged to utilize the seating outside The Teen Space to keep an eye on their teen(s) if they choose to do so.

- In addition, The Teen Space will adhere to the guidelines set forth in other sections of the Library's policies.

The following teen behavior guidelines were adopted by the Teen Advisory Board and shall also apply to the use of the teen space: (See Page 29)

TEEN SPACE RULES

The Teen Space is a privilege, not a right.

RULES TO FOLLOW:

1. Behave. Keep hands & feet to yourself.
2. This isn't a movie theater. No make out sessions.

COMPUTER USE INCLUDING ATTAIN LAB AND WIRELESS NETWORK

A current library card is required for the use of all computers and wireless connections with the exception of the computers in the ATTAIN Lab.

Use of the computer is on a first-come, first-served basis in 60-minute blocks. The Library reserves the right to limit the number of sessions per patron/per day as usage warrants.

In the Computer Area, use is limited to two people at a workstation at a time.

If a patron has a “blocked” or “barred” status, according to library policy, they will not be able to use the library computers or wireless network unless they obtain the Library Director’s approval.

Black and white copies are 20 cents per page.

Color copies are 75 cents per page.

Limit of 50 pages printed per day.

Users may not:

- Use another person’s library card to use library computers or access the wireless network.
- Invade the privacy of others.
- Make any attempt to damage or modify computer equipment or software.
- Engage in any activity that is harassing or defamatory.
- Use the Internet for any illegal activity, including violation of copyright or other rights of third parties, or in a manner inconsistent with the Library’s tax-exempt status or its proper operation.

The library’s Internet workstations are in a public community setting and may not be used for illegal, harmful, or damaging purposes. Furthermore, the computers may not be used to access potentially offensive or inappropriate information or images as determined by the sole discretion of the Director or designee. Filtering software is used to minimize and prevent access to offensive materials or images. Library computers must be used in compliance with these rules and with library policy in general. If a complaint is made, the library may use cameras or monitoring software to view patron’s computers.

Violations and unlawful activities will result in loss of computer privileges or the imposition of a barred status in accordance with library policy.

Access by Minors

Children’s computers have a commercially produced filter which attempts to block inappropriate matter. The filters also prevent access to the following types of websites:

- Chat Rooms, email and other electronic communications.

- Hacking or other websites that allow minors to bypass security measures.
- Facebook and other social media sites.
- Any other sites that may be considered illegal or harmful to minors.

Wireless Network

Access to the wireless network is obtained using the patron's library card and PIN. Patrons without a library card can obtain temporary login information at the circulation or reference desk.

The wireless network exists for patrons who are in good standing to access with the appropriate equipment in their laptop computers. Library staff will provide configuration settings for wireless network setup. However, the user is solely responsible for making these changes on their personal computers.

Wireless network printing is not available. Files may be saved to a device or emailed.

Communication via the wireless network should not be considered secure. Laptop users are responsible for selecting and installing security protection and maintaining current antivirus software.

When using the wireless network, library users must use earphones to make the sound inaudible to others.

Access to the library's wireless network is in a public community setting and may not be used for illegal, harmful, or damaging purposes. Furthermore, the library's wireless network may not be used to access potentially offensive information or images as determined by the sole discretion of the Director or designee. Filtering software is used to minimize and prevent access to offensive materials or images. The wireless network must be used in compliance with these rules and with library policy in general. If a complaint is made, the library may use cameras or monitoring software to view patron's computers.

LINKS FROM THE LIBRARY'S WEB SITE

The Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library web site is an online source of information for staff and patrons of the Library. Included on the website is a limited number of links to other web sites chosen because these links have been useful to staff in answering patron questions. These sites are selected to enrich, broaden, and complement the print and audiovisual library materials available and must be consistent with the Library's Collection Development Policy criteria.

Resources are constantly changing on the Internet. Since these linked sites are not under the control of the Library, they may change or disappear over time. New links will be added and current links evaluated regularly based on the Collection Development Policy criteria.

Re-Adopted by the Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library Board of Trustees, November 8, 2011

EMERGENCY PROCEDURE POLICY

Fire

Do not under-estimate the potential danger to customers or staff represented by a fire. At the first indication of smoke or flame, investigate the situation to determine location and extent of the fire. If the fire can obviously be contained and extinguished quickly and safely by staff, proceed to do so. However, if there is any doubt about whether the fire can be controlled, immediately call 911 or the fire department and then clear the building.

The time to think about fires is before they happen. Familiarize yourself with the type, location, and application of the fire extinguisher(s) in the building. Orient all staff and volunteers to this information

Health Emergencies

Staff members should exercise caution when administering first aid of even a minor nature because of the safety of the injured individual and the potential liability of the staff member. Without specialized training it is not advisable for staff to undertake more than keeping the sick or injured patron comfortable and protected from needless disturbance until medical help can be obtained. Since each case is unique, staff members should use their own judgment to do what is prudent and reasonable.

The Rescue Squad/Police (911) should be called immediately in the event of any serious problem.

No medication, including aspirin, should ever be dispensed to the public.

Bomb Threats

Keep the caller on the line as long as possible. Ask the caller to repeat the message and try to write down every word spoken by the person.

If the caller does not indicate the location of the bomb or the time of possible detonation, ASK FOR THIS INFORMATION.

Listen closely to the voice (male, female), voice quality (calm, excited), accents and speech impediments.

Immediately after the caller hangs up, call the police. Clear the building. The police will handle the actual bomb search.

ELECTRONIC DATA BACKUP POLICY AND PROCEDURE

This policy is designed to protect data of the Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library to be sure it is not lost and can be recovered in the event of an equipment failure, intentional destruction of data, or disaster.

Full backups are performed nightly on the server Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Backed up data shall be stored off site.

Adopted by the Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library Board of Trustees, January 13, 2015

FRIENDS OF THE ROSWELL P. FLOWER MEMORIAL LIBRARY

Flower Memorial Library is a formal association of people who unite to plan and execute, in conjunction with library goals and the needs of the Library Director, programs and events to benefit the library. In particular, the Friends group raises funds and provides volunteers to support the library mission. Re-adopted by the Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library Board of Trustees, March 8, 2011.

GIFTS AND DONATIONS POLICY

The library may accept gifts of materials and monetary donations. Often gifts are given in memory of a loved one or to commemorate a special event. Donated items will be carefully reviewed for their overall contributions to the Library's mission and relevance to the collection. Materials donated to the Library may be added to the collection if they meet the criteria for materials selection and are in good physical condition. Items which fall within the criteria for discarding, will not be added as gifts. Processing costs are also weighed before placing a gift in the collection. Exceptions to physical condition include rare, out of print, reference, and other materials that fill a specific gap in the collection. All gifts become the property of Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library. The Library Director or his/her designee will make the final decision on inclusion of materials.

FINANCIAL POLICY

The Library Board establishes this financial policy to ensure fiscal accountability, appropriate use of funds in support of the Library's mission and goals, and compliance with appropriate laws and ordinances.

Budget

The Director and the Library Board shall establish an annual budget request according to City guidelines and submit it to the City Manager for inclusion in the City's budget.

The Director shall work with the City Manager to seek adoption of the Board's request, reporting any changes or concerns to the Board.

After budget adoption by the City Council, the Director will present the adopted budget for the year to the Library Board for review and approval.

On an annual basis, all Library funds, expenditures and revenues will be audited as part of the City's audit. Any notes or communications from the City's auditor regarding the Library shall be communicated with the Board. Library finances will also be annually reported to the Department of Library Development.

Expenditures

The Director will review expenditures of budgeted funds and forward approved invoices to the City for payment.

The Director will work together with City staff, using City forms and procedures for payment of invoices, and will keep library practices in compliance with City practices and policies.

On a monthly basis, the Director shall present a list of all expenditures to the Board for review and approval. The Director will also present a monthly financial report showing the status of all accounts and funds.

The director is authorized to make a single purchase not to exceed $1,500 without Board approval

Receipts

Monies received as revenue by the Library from overdue fines, refunds, and payments for library service will be submitted to the City as general revenue.

Monies received as reimbursements for lost or damaged materials and computer printouts will be submitted to NCLS (North Country Library System) as revenue, and may be used to defray expenses in these areas as authorized by the Library Board. Regular budget lines will be adjusted during the year as necessary to reflect differences between actual and projected revenues.

Library staff will implement petty cash procedures when immediate payment or reimbursement for a purchase or service is required.

Donations and Gifts

Specified Donations: The Director is authorized to expend funds annually out of both the general Donations account (i.e. memorial gifts) and trust accounts that are designated for a specific purpose

Unspecified Donations: To be determined.

All donations to the Library shall be subject to the approval of the Library Board per the Gifts Policy.

Staff will track monies donated for the express purpose of purchasing library materials as a "Memorial Fund" and use them only for the purpose for which they have been donated. Staff will request carryover of any unexpended Memorial funds from one fiscal year to the next.

Contracts

Upon approval of the budget, the Director is authorized to negotiate and sign service contracts not to exceed $10,000 for services received by the Library for its operational or administrative needs.

Disposal of Property

Withdrawn library materials, materials donated but not added to the collection may be sold annually by the Friends of the Library or by the Library, itself. The Friends group will sell these materials to raise funds to benefit the Library. Materials deemed by staff or the Friends group to be unfit for sale may be discarded.

The Library Board and Library Director will determine the disposal of all non-city owned property.

Investments

The primary objectives of the Library's financial investments are (in priority order):

Preservation of Capital - The preservation of capital is the foremost objective of the investment program. At no time should the safety of the portfolio's principal investment be impaired or jeopardized. All investments shall be undertaken in a manner that first seeks to preserve capital and secondly attempts to fulfill other investment objectives.

Liquidity - The Library's investment portfolio is to remain sufficiently liquid to enable the Library to meet those operating requirements that might be reasonably anticipated.

Return on Investments (Yield) - The Library's investments should generate the highest available return without sacrificing the first two objectives.

Investments shall be made with judgment and care, under circumstances then prevailing, which persons of prudence, discretion and intelligence might exercise in the management of their own affairs.

Authorized Investments: The following investments are deemed to be suitable for inclusion in the Library's investment program. The Treasurer is authorized to invest Library funds in only those investments specifically delineated below. All investment transactions will be performed on a competitive basis. The competitiveness of each bid or offer will be verified utilizing the various information systems available and by putting eligible institutions in competition with one another to ensure that a market rate is provided.

U.S. Treasury Bills and Notes for which the full faith and credit of the U.S. Government is pledged for the repayment of principal and interest. Bills are short term (one year or less) obligations issued and sold at a discount. Notes have fixed coupon rates with original maturities of between one and five years.

Demand deposit accounts (such as checking accounts) established with local financial institutions.

Certificates of Deposit (CDs) issued by local financial institutions

Reporting:

The Clerk-Treasurer shall provide to the Library's Board of Trustees monthly investment reports which clearly provide the following information regarding the investment portfolio: types of investment, depository institutions, principal balances, rates of return and maturities.

Fixed Assets

The purpose of a fixed asset policy is to establish guidelines for management to follow in recording the purchase price of assets on the organization's records as to whether they are to be capitalized or expensed.

Objective: To expense certain small dollar amounts paid for fixed asset purchases up to $500.00.

Procedure: All fixed asset purchases are to be treated as individual units to determine value. If a purchase is less it will be expensed. If a purchase meets or exceeds $500 or more, it is to be capitalized and depreciated over the useful life using the straight line method of depreciation.

CREDIT CARD POLICY

At the request of the Director, any employee might be asked to run errands which require the use of the credit card.

There is one credit card held by the Director. The Director is designated to hand out the card. The Library credit card must be signed out, indicating the employee's name, date, and where the credit card is going to be used and type of purchase being made. When used in person, charge slips must be turned in at the time the card is returned with the initial or signature of the purchaser. When used on-line, the user must print the receipt/ confirmation from the internet retailer and is prohibited from having the credit card information retained for future use with the retailer's account or in the memory of the computer used. The Administrative Secretary will code each slip for payment and indicate the date of return of the credit card in the logbook.

The Director, or the Administrative Secretary in his/her absence, will inventory the items that have been purchased at local retail stores and match these items against the receipt.

When credit card purchases are made, it will not be necessary to use a purchase order number, but a system will be maintained in the Business Office to encumber credit card purchases to charge expenditures against the appropriate budgeted line items. The credit card, though, should only be used for traveling purposes, emergency purchases which cannot be acquired without prepayment, and small local supply purchases when purchasing from vendors with whom the Library has no established credit and when there is not an adequate amount of Petty Cash on hand or for online retailers that require credit cards.

The Sales Tax Exemption information will be given every time the credit card is signed out.

Personal use of the business credit card is prohibited.

Adopted by the Library Board of Trustees, September 14, 2010

An employee who retaliates against someone who has reported a violation in good faith is subject to discipline up to and including termination of employment. This Whistleblower Policy is intended to encourage and enable employees and others to raise serious concerns within Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library prior to seeking resolution outside Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library.

Reporting Violations

Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library has an open door policy and suggests that employees share their questions, concerns, suggestions or complaints with someone who can address them properly. Supervisors and professional staff are required to report suspected ethics violations to the Roswell P. Accounting and Auditing Matters

The Compliance Officer shall immediately notify the audit committee of any such complaint and work with the committee until the matter is resolved.

Acting in Good Faith

Anyone filing a complaint concerning a violation or suspected violation must be acting in good faith and have reasonable grounds for believing the information disclosed indicates a violation. Any allegations that prove not to be substantiated and which prove to have been made maliciously or knowingly to be false will be viewed as a serious disciplinary offense.

Confidentiality

Violations or suspected violations may be submitted on a confidential basis by the complainant or may be submitted anonymously. Reports of violations or suspected violations will be kept confidential to the extent possible, consistent with the need to conduct an adequate investigation.

- A. Gifts. He shall not directly or indirectly solicit any gift or accept or receive any gift having a value of $75 or more, whether in the form of money, services, loan, travel, entertainment, hospitality, thing or promise, or any other form, under circumstances in which it could reasonably be inferred that the gift was intended to influence him, or could reasonably be expected to influence him, in the performance of his official duties or was intended as a reward for any official action on his part. [Amended 9-4-2001]
- B. Confidential information. He shall not disclose confidential information acquired by him in the course of his official duties or use such information to further his personal interest.

He shall not receive or enter into any agreement, express or implied, for compensation for services to be rendered in relation to any matter before any municipal agency of which he is an officer, member or employee or of any municipal agency over which he has jurisdiction or to which he has the power to appoint any member, officer or employee.
- D. Representation before any agency for a contingent fee. He shall not receive or enter into any agreement, express or implied, for compensation for services to be rendered in relation to any matter before any agency of his municipality, whereby his compensation is to be dependent or contingent upon any action by such agency with respect to such matter, provided that this subsection shall not prohibit the fixing at any time of fees based upon the reasonable value of the services rendered.

To the extent that he knows thereof, a member of the Council and any officer or employee of the City of Watertown, whether paid or unpaid, who participates in the discussions or gives official opinion to the Council on any legislation before the Council shall publicly disclose on the official record the nature and extent of any direct or indirect financial or other private interest he has in such legislation.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST POLICY

It is the Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library's goal to avoid both actual and perceived conflicts of interest in the conduct of its business. A conflict of interest exists in any situation where a trustee or staff member of the Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library has been empowered to make decisions on behalf of the Library and who, as a result of that power, can potentially benefit personally, directly or indirectly, from an entity or person conducting business with the Library. Examples of potential conflicts of interest include, but are not limited to:

1. A Library trustee or staff member provides goods or services to the Library for financial consideration.
2. A friend or relative of a trustee or staff member provides goods or services to the Library for financial consideration.
3. A vendor or business acquaintance with which a trustee or staff member has an outside business relationship provides goods or services to the Library for financial consideration.
4. A trustee or staff member receives a referral fee or other valuable consideration from a vendor, paid promoter, fund raising event sponsor, or any other outside party, for referring the Library business to such party.

All potential conflicts of interest concerning Board trustees are to be reported to the Board president prior to discussion of the issue before the Board. The Board shall rule as to whether the declaration constitutes a conflict of interest. If so, the trustee shall not engage in discussion or vote, and shall be required to withdraw from the meeting for the duration of the debate. All potential conflicts of interest concerning staff are to be reported to the Library Director, who will make a decision - in consultation with the Board if necessary - as to whether the relationship is an appropriate one for the Library. Failure to adhere to this policy will generate further Board review.

I understand the concept of a conflict of interest and represent that I have not been party to a conflict of interest action that has not been previously disclosed. I also agree to report any potential future conflicts of interest to Roswell P. Flower Memorial Library prior to engaging in any conflict of interest action.
